Enabling IQCP Candidates to Slice and Dice
Readings and Track Progress

What is the Difference Between the IAIDQ published Word and DQMatters Excel Version?

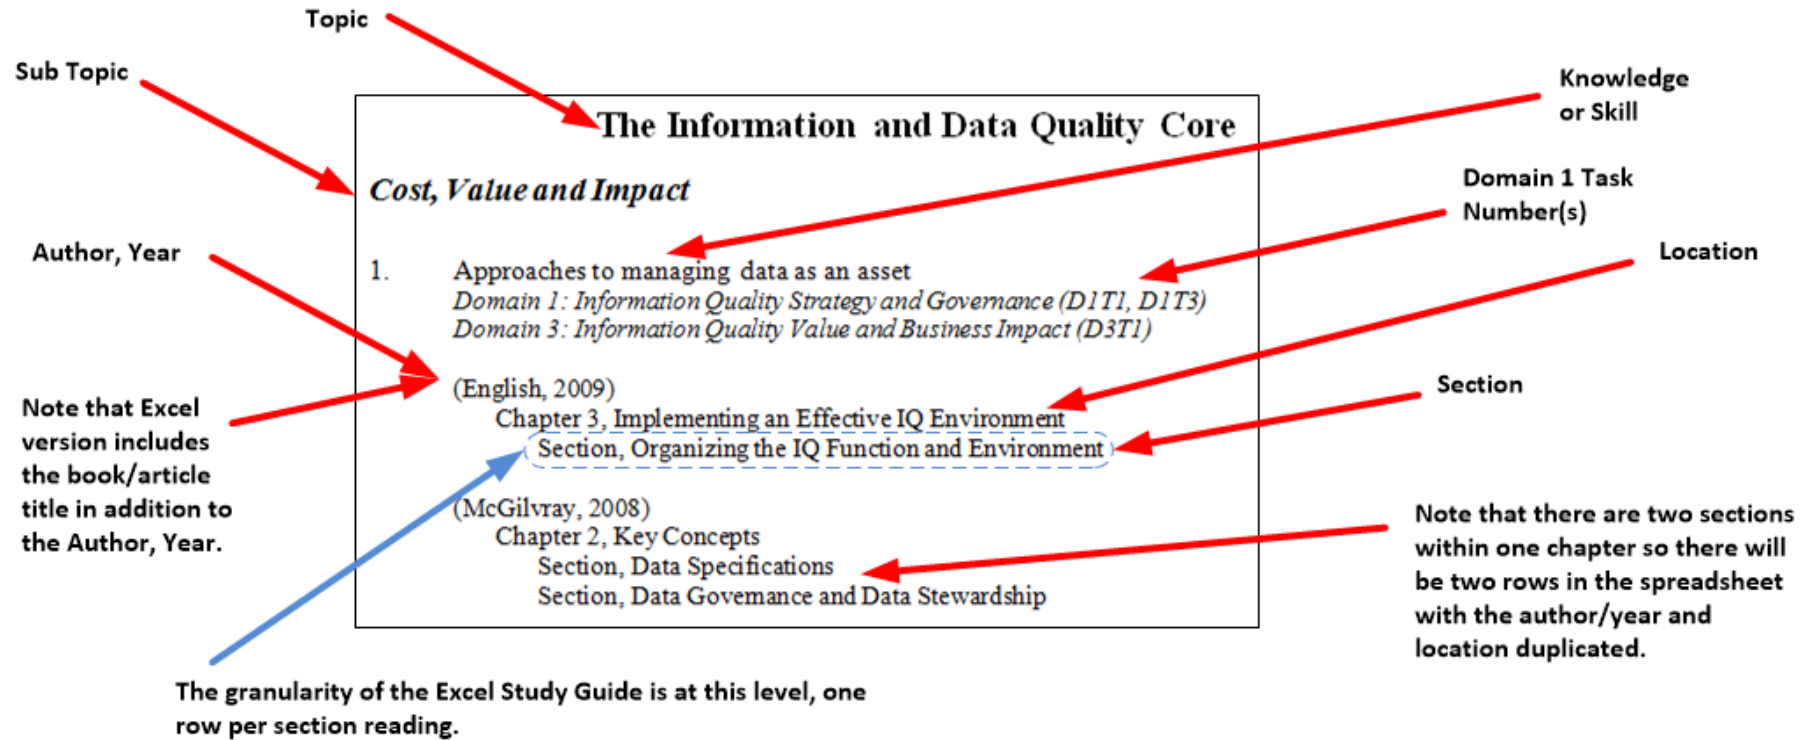

Original MS Word Version (v2.0)

1. Study Guide (SG) in outline format
2. No unique ID per reading
3. Users unable to slide and dice data in order to focus study efforts
4. No book titles (only author, year)
5. IAIDQ Copyright Product

New Excel Version (v2.0)

1. Study Guide (SG) in tabular format
2. Each reading (at the section level) has a unique ID enabling ease of reference and communication during teaching
3. Basic Pivot Tables and reports provided and additional reporting possible with data in tabular format
4. Easy to count frequency of readings by author, which helps you know which books to read first
5. IAIDQ Copyright Product

Reading Key for IQCP Study Guide (Word and Excel Versions)

Columns Available in Excel Version

- Topic, Sub Topic, Knowledge or Skill, Author(s), Year Published, URL, Location, Section, Physical Beginning Page, Physical Ending Page
- Reading ID- Unique ID for each reading in the same order as the Word version of the SG
- Reading Title- Name of the book or Internet article
- Domain 1-6 Task Number(s)- IQCP Framework task(s) that apply to this reading

Basic Statistics of Study Guide Readings

- Count of Readings (defined at the section level): 336
- Count of Unique Topics: 5
- Count of Unique Sub-Topics: 27
- Count of Unique Knowledge/Skills: 134
- Count of Internet Articles/Readings: 32
- Count of Readings with page numbers: 144 (47%*)

*47% is based on $336 - 32 = 304$ (32 Web articles not expected to have pg numbers) as denominator
